

CONFIDENTIALISED UNIT RECORD FILES (CURFs) INDIVIDUAL USER UNDERTAKING

Version: APRIL 2007

Requesting access to a CURF

In order to access an ABS CURF, you must undertake to abide by the conditions of access, using this form.

You should then complete a separate 'Request for Access to a CURF' form (REQ1 and REQ2 if required). Your first Request for Access must accompany this Undertaking – subsequently, for access to additional CURFs, only the Request for Access form is required.

Completing and submitting this Undertaking

Before completing this Undertaking, read the Responsible Access to ABS Confidentialised Unit Record Files (CURFs) Training Manual. This manual, along with other information about CURFs, is available on the 'Discover CURF Microdata' page on the ABS website (www.abs.gov.au).

Please note: All results and data from the work undertaken by individual users remains the property of the organisation, not the individual user. No CURF data may be retained by the individual user, and all data provided must be deleted from all systems and/or returned on CD-ROM at the completion of the project.

Please forward your completed, signed Undertaking, together with your Request for Access to a CURF form, to your organisation's CURF Contact Officer for submission to the ABS.

Note: original, signed, paper copies are required. A list of CURF Contact Officers is available on the 'Discover CURF Microdata' page on the ABS website.

Annual renewal

Each year, all organisations with users accessing CURFs will be required to renew their access. This will involve confirming whether each user still requires access, and what CURFs they require access to.

Thus, if you require continued access to CURFs, you will need to complete a new undertaking at this time, and tell the Contact Officer what CURFs you require access to. You will also need to provide information on how the CURFs have been used and will continue to be used, and include any details about published output.

Queries

For any queries about accessing CURFs, contact ABS Microdata Access Strategies Section by email microdata.access@abs.gov.au or telephone (02) 6252 7714.
